- Work Ethic

Class Policies & Procedures:

- Pre-requisite: A grade of C- (76.5) or higher upon completion of both Introduction to Art and Design is required in order to take this course.
- Homework: Each project explored may have worksheets and/or assignments that are to be completed by the student.
- Supplements: Each project explored may also be supplemented by activities, slides, pictures, and videos. The student will be responsible for any and all information presented in these supplements.
- Quizzes/Tests: There will be a test administered in order to demonstrate proficiency before any student may work with clay or tools. After the initial test, students MUST demonstrate content knowledge within the assigned projects/assignments.
- Semester Assessment: A semester assessment worth 200 points is given in this course. A final exam worth 100 points for the will be administered. Together, with the "final project" listed above, will count for 15% of the course grade.
- Absences: Any student who has 5 or more absences (medical, pre-approved absences for school related activities, DOS, and ISS--not included) in this class over the course of the semester will receive 0's for all homework and projects due beyond the 5th absence as outlined in the student handbook.
- Make-Up Work: Any student that is absent (for any reason) is responsible for getting and/or turning in any notes, work, and project missed. For each class session missed, the student will have 2 class periods in which to turn in the work. Beyond these days, the work will be counted as late. (Special circumstances may apply: extended illness, major project that cannot be completed at home, etc. The instructor reserves the right to extend more time in the above situations.)
- Late Work: Late work will be accepted for 75% credit if turned in to instructor by 8:15 a.m. the next day. Work received after this time will be late and a 0 will be given.
- Extra Credit: There will be NO extra credit given in this course unless it is a direct assignment given by the instructor to all students. Students are required to complete all work assigned by the due dates.
